Welcome

Strathfield Golf Club is home to a magnificent new championship-calibre 18-hole golf course and award-winning purpose-built clubhouse.

Located close to the heart of the metropolitan area and just minutes from the Olympic Park precinct, in Sydney's Inner West, the club is within easy driving distance of Sydney's suburbs to the north, south, east and west.

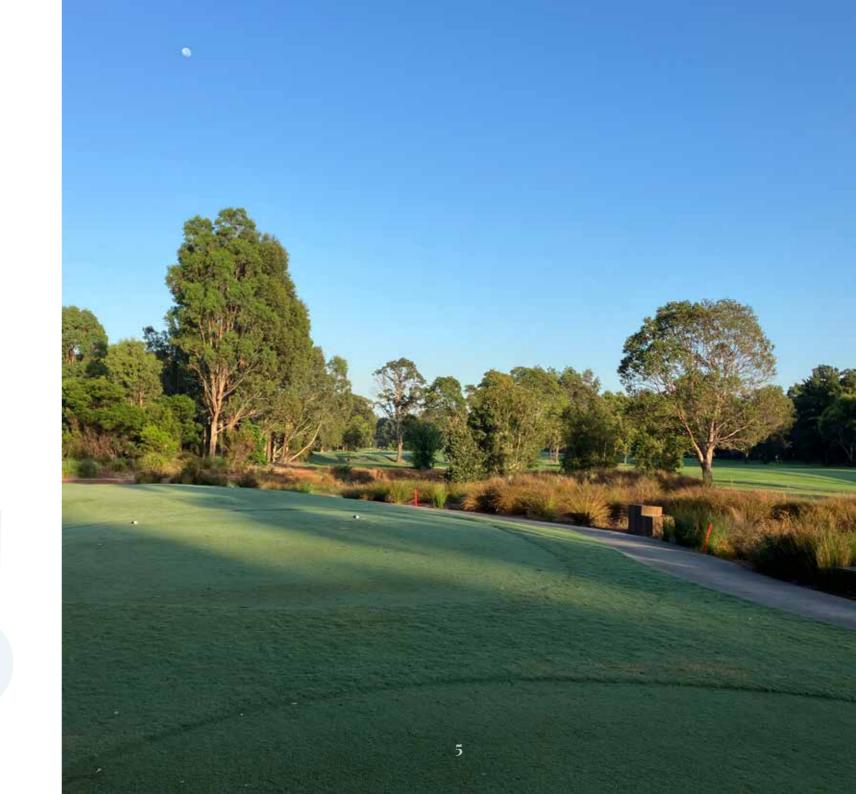

Formed in 1931, the club has undergone a stunning transformation in recent years. It took the ambitious step of selling some of the land on which it stood to residential property developers and used the proceeds to finance a major redesign of its golf course and add an iconic new clubhouse that has been voted amongst the best buildings of its kind in the world.

In addition to providing outstanding facilities which will be enjoyed by generations to come, the move has secured the long-term financial future of the club, an enviable position many clubs do not enjoy in these uncertain times.

Golf Industry Central called it "one of the most monumental redevelopments of any club in the history of golf in the state".

The club's golf course redesign was led by internationally-acclaimed course architect James Wilcher from Golf by Design. With 14 new greens, 16 new tee boxes, and a completely new course routing, the new layout is a championship-quality Par-71 challenge measuring 5,899 metres from the back tees. The transformed course has earned universally favourable reviews and provides an enjoyable and challenging experience for golfers of all abilities.

The incredible facilities in the on-site Pro Shop are in keeping with those to be enjoyed elsewhere in the club. Browse the latest golfing equipment in luxury, or enjoy coaching or playing one of the world's leading golf courses on one of the club's three state-of-the-art indoor simulators.

A team of dedicated Australian PGA-qualified Professionals lead by long-term Club Professional Mark Reeve provide high-quality coaching to players of all levels, privately or in group sessions, allowing golfers to realise their full potential.

The hospitality experience is equally pleasurable. The new, purpose-built clubhouse building boasts that "wow" factor both inside and out – with al fresco areas in which to enjoy a drink or a meal, and a spacious and wonderfully-appointed indoor space with a magnificent balcony overlooking the course.

The club's Café is a great place for a chat and to enjoy coffee and cake and much more. The Bistro is open for Lunch every day and for Dinner Tuesday-Saturday, offering a tasty menu and indoor and al fresco dining options. There is a Sports Bar for those wanting to watch the big sporting events in comfort with a refreshing drink and a TAB gaming area for those who fancy a flutter.

With three dedicated function rooms, Strathfield Golf Club's superb modern facilities make it the perfect choice to host special events of all kinds, from birthday celebrations, retirement parties and celebrations of life to wedding ceremonies and receptions.

The club is also an outstanding choice for the corporate community, catering for everything from a large-scale international conference to an intimate meeting thanks to a selection of versatile event spaces, boardrooms and meeting rooms featuring the very latest technology. There are few better locations for organisers of professionally-organised golf days wishing to make a lasting impression on their clients.

Whether you are keen to play golf on the new exciting new James Wilcher course, or simply wish to enjoy a coffee, glass of wine or tasty meal in spectacular surroundings, Strathfield Golf Club should be your club of choice.

Clubhouse and Bistro

Strathfield Golf Club's spectacular new clubhouse has been wowing members and guests and collecting awards since it officially opened in November 2018.

Incredibly, the clubhouse was named among the top three new clubhouses in the world by the American-based Golf Inc magazine in 2019, beating former US President Donald Trump's plush Trump Golf Links in New York in the process!

Designed by architectural firm Altis, Strathfield's clubhouse earned high praise for its "clean lines and modern design elements devoted to increasing sustainability". Judges also liked how it combined old-style grace with modern functionality.

Strathfield Golf Club also featured in an Australian Golf Digest list of the Greatest Clubhouses in Australia.

Australian Golf Digest senior writer and panellist Rohan Clarke said Strathfield rivalled The National and Royal Sydney for the most exquisite clubhouse in Australia.

He added: "It's the Taj Mahal of clubhouses – multi-purpose, catering for aprés golf as much as hardcore golfers with restaurants, café, function rooms, indoor simulators and locker rooms."

A hidden oasis encompassed by the lush fairways of the golf course, the clubhouse features a member's lounge, sports lounge, casual dining area, café, event centre and an abundance of al fresco areas. All come with panoramic views, which are enhanced by floor-to-ceiling glass windows to take full advantage of the building being in such close proximity to the golf course.

The sculptural building shape was inspired by forms experienced on the golf course, namely the curvature of rolling greens, the undulating edges of bunkers and the elliptical shape of a driver. When viewed from above, the building form represents three 'drivers'.

The new clubhouse, though, doesn't dominate the skyline, instead it blends seamlessly into its surroundings. Split over three levels, the upper floor – at ground level – is home to all social activities in three interlinked pavilions with external terraces.

The middle floor underneath houses locker rooms, Pro Shop, golf simulators and cart storage, while the basement area houses a large car park.

The clubhouse has multiple foyers, a balcony and a garden gazebo; a Bistro that seats up to 150 people; three function rooms capable of hosting 500 guests; and a members' lounge with sports screens and twin boardrooms.

The more closely you look at this iconic building, the more you will be amazed at the thought and creativity that has gone into its design. It is up there with the very best venues in Sydney and has taken the clubhouse experience at Strathfield to a whole new level.

The club's members adore the place and could be excused for not wanting to go home at the end of the night! The good news is that the club is within easy driving distance of Sydney's suburbs, so you can be back here again the following day in no time!

Not yet a member? Nor a golfer? No problem. Visitors are welcome to come and enjoy the wonderful clubhouse facilities. Strathfield Golf Club now offers a social category of membership, giving those members access to the lounge and dining areas of the new clubhouse and a range of benefits including discounts on food and beverage purchases.

Social Memberships can be applied for in person at the club, or if you would like to fill in the form prior to your next visit, it can be downloaded from the club website, www.strathfieldgolf.com.au.

Bistro

At the heart of the clubhouse sits the wonderful Bistro, which is open for Lunch every day and for Dinner every day except Monday.

With indoor and al fresco dining options, it is the perfect spot for a long family lunch on the sunny deck, as you take in the tranquil surroundings with a glass of wine in hand. The bistro offers a range of dining experiences, from a Sunday afternoon with friends accompanied by live music, to cosy nooks for an intimate date night.

Bistro bookings can be made by calling (02) 9642 0326 or by using the form on the club website, www.strathfieldgolf.com.au.

The Course

Strathfield Golf Club's magnificent new 18-hole course presents an exciting challenge to golfers of all levels. The layout is enjoyable to play, a fair test and rewards good golf.

Men enjoy a 5,899-metre par-71 layout from the blue tees (slope rating 132). Women play a course measuring 5,051 metres from the red tees (slope rating 130). With Scratch Scores of 74 and 73 (three-over-par and two-over-par respectively), this is clearly a true test of golf.

In 2016, leading international golf course architect James Wilcher of Golf by Design – who includes The Cut in Western Australia and Pacific Dunes in New South Wales among his design portfolio – was commissioned to reconfigure all 18 holes and draw up a course masterplan, establishing Strathfield Golf Club as a standout golf destination for many years to come.

It was a herculean task which was to take two years of hard work to complete and which was made all the more challenging by the need to keep the course in play for members at all times.

The course redevelopment included the building of 14 new greens, 16 new tee boxes, and a completely new course routing.

Nearly 20,000 cubic metres of fill was removed from the site of the new clubhouse and transported over to the second green and seventh fairway/green. Flemming Contracting carried out all the shaping and their superb contour work has won many admirers.

Proudly encompassing

Eight holes are located on the eastern side of Centenary Drive, with designed loops of eight and 10 holes that return to the clubhouse.

A prominent feature of the course is the Cooks River which meanders its way through the centre of the course. It is crossed on six occasions, while coming into play on an additional three holes.

Gentle changes in undulation and delightfully contoured fairways will exercise skill and technique.

Good golfers will appreciate being rewarded for the ability to shape their shots on some holes, while everyone will have their short game tested should they miss the greens. With lots of swales and run-off areas around the green complexes and closely-mown surrounds, chipping and putting skills and imagination are to the fore.

The course rewards length and accuracy off the tee, and will often punish errant and mishit approach shots. Driver is not the automatic choice on every hole; instead the golfer must make a strategic choice and then execute their chosen shot to be rewarded.

The redesign features A1/A4 bent on the putting surfaces, couch on the green surrounds, and kikuyu on the fairways. The use of zoysia grass around the edges of bunkers is a particularly interesting feature. Not only is it pleasing on the eye, but it has greatly reduced the maintenance effort required on the bunker edges, meaning Strathfield's dedicated and hard-working greenkeeping team can invest more of their tireless efforts elsewhere on the course.

The course is sympathetically managed using best environmental practices and is at one with nature: check out the breeding boxes for the red-tailed parrot around the par-3 fifth hole.

Everyone at the club is excited by the changes, which will leave a lasting legacy to the next generation of discerning golfers who are proud to call Strathfield Golf Club their home club.

Wilcher told Golf Australia: "I'm an aestheticist. It's one thing to have a wonderful playing golf course, but I find people tend to play better on a course that they think looks and feels good."

The ambitious redevelopment has revitalised the 18-hole championship-standard layout and underlined the club's commitment to excellence and to providing the best facilities for its members. Sydney's most centrally located golf course is now on every Sydney golfer's 'must play' list.

Pro Shop and Coaching

Think all Pro Shops are the same? Think again. Here at Strathfield Golf Club, the retail and game improvement experience has been taken to another level.

Located on the middle floor, the newly expanded Pro Shop was purpose built as part of the club's magnificent new clubhouse development. The new shop is huge and is up there with the best Sydney has to offer. If you've not been before, pop in and have a look – it will take your breath away!

There are three hitting bays, each with simulators for club fitting, lessons and rounds of indoor golf, as well as a putting simulator with a floor which can be raised or lowered for uphill and downhill putts.

Whether you are a beginner or experienced golfer, the coaching team is here to help you improve your game and gain maximum enjoyment from your time on the course. Their philosophy is not to help you play well for one round, but to give you the tools to enjoy a lifetime of good golf.

The club's PGA-qualified coaches use the latest state-of-the-art indoor simulators, GCQuad Launch monitors and swing catalyst software that offers a comprehensive easy-to-follow video analysis.

Bottom line? The technology and accompanying video analysis helps the coach identify the fault to be corrected. The student, meanwhile, can instantly see what is being asked of them and can more readily picture what is needed to make the change.

It is a fantastic learning tool and superb as a means of coach and student monitoring a player's performance through swing changes and other issues.

How to Join

Strathfield Golf Club members can enjoy a stunning new 18-hole championship-standard course perfect for players of all levels.

Membership brings with it a range of benefits including priority tee times. A varied golfing program operates throughout the year, while off the course there is a magnificent new state-of-the-art clubhouse to be enjoyed, fantastic accompanying facilities, great food in the Bistro and a Pro Shop experience you won't believe.

Even better news, Strathfield Golf Club is one of the most affordable inner city clubs in Sydney. Joining is quick and easy. Members have immediate privileges once they have made full payment and completed their orientation.

Members can chart their continual improvement by gaining a Golf Australia handicap, recognised at golf clubs worldwide, and make their bookings either in person in the Pro Shop, by phone, or online through the MiClub booking system, which also allows them to track their handicap and see competition results.

The MiClub app, MiScore, is available for free for members to improve their playing experience yet further. The app is available to download for Apple and Android mobile phones and features automated score tally, distance to pin, scorecard, touch screen signature and the chance to check the current leaderboard and stats so you know how you're doing against your peers while out on the course!

New members are made to feel particularly welcome and should find no shortage of playing partners with an extensive calendar of golf events offered throughout the year. There is frequent social golf, providing the perfect opportunity to get to know your fellow members.

As a member, you will almost certainly find yourself playing more golf and your handicap will fall as a result. And as all golfers know: the better you play, the more you will enjoy your game.

In short, whatever your age, if you enjoy golf, or are seeking to take up the game and looking to make new friends on and off the course, Strathfield Golf Club is for you.

The club offers a Social membership to non-golfers wishing to enjoy the magnificent clubhouse and benefit from members' pricing, and a Lifestyle membership perfect for the casual or time-poor golfer who want the benefits of membership but cannot get to the course as often as they would wish.

Lifestyle members pay a lower annual subscription and purchase accompanying points packages. Points are stored in the member's account and can then be redeemed against rounds of golf, with specific values attached to specific days of the week.
